Reference:

Description

Paul Frankl designed this very versatile coffee table in the early 1940's. Two lightly curved panels covered in book matched walnut veneers on the outside hold up a round glass top and are joined by a cork veneered round shelf. The cork veneers cover the inside of the panels as well and provide a striking contrast to the darker walnut. The table has been refinished and is ready to place in your home.. It is 21' high and 36" diameter.
