Description

A simple, yet stunning Victorian crystal chandelier converted from gas to electric.

4 elegantly curved arms ending in floral cups. Central shaft has crisp, clean designs cut into it.

Overall has a Georgian revival style to it. The piece is not signed, but has the look of Mt Washington Glassworks manufacture.

Originally made c.1880, the features of this fixture suggest an electric conversion sometime in the 1920's.

Fully cleaned, re-wired and restored in house and ready to hang.
