

Art Deco Lamp Cobalt Blue Glass Shade Chrome Nude Dancer

Reference:

MPD-004992

Description

This is an art deco table lamp featuring a nude "Ball Dancer" girl and a ribbed tubular glass shade. The girl, the base, and the cap are chrome and the glass shade is a rich cobalt blue. The chrome is in good antique condition, nice and shiny with minor pitting. The glass is in excellent condition with a small sliver chipped on the top rim that sits under the chrome cap. This is completely covered by the cap and not visible unless the lamp is taken apart. The lamp retains it's original switch, which works perfect, and all other wiring is new. It stands about 14" tall and the base is about 8" across.
