Description

This is an Art Deco smoke stand and magazine rack. It was likely made by Revere in the 1930's. It is done in bronze, chrome, and stainless steel on a black lacquered base, in iconic Art Deco style. This piece is complete and has been lovingly restored to its original splendor. The bronze sides and ashtray are polished to a lustrous mirror finish. The chrome is lightly polished and retains the slightest hints of wear. There is a stainless spring steel canopy that presses against the sides to keep your magazines neatly standing. This stand measures 12x6x25.
