Description
Late Streamline Art Deco five light chandelier with custard shades

Lovely Circa 1936 Streamline Chandelier. Original antique chandelier with orignal antique shades.

Note how the shade fitters sweep up and hold the tapered shades so nicely. The rim of the fitter has been nicely reticulated, with design, to make the shade seem to mold right into the fixture. A very nice touch indeed.

The frame is a contrast between black and nickel plating as shown in the pictures. The frame is showing it’s age like a good persian carpet but in no way can it be considered in bad condition. It simply is mellowed out after all these years. Nickel plating is more mellow than hard chrome and gives a more aged ambiance to the fixture.

The shades are custard glass with a simple pattern and match round areas of the frame quite well. They are in excellent condition.

This chandelier has been completely re-wired with new sockets and all new wire in our UL shop.

Measurements: The Overall height is 22 ”. The diameter is 20 1/2” from shade outside to shade outside.
