

American Art Deco Black and Red Chaise Lounge

Reference:

MPD-000110

Description

This 1930's American art deco chaise lounge is a machine age symphony in black and red. Constructed of rolled steel rods with an unusual sprung seat and back between flat steel frames. The chaise rolls on two wheels with tires in excellent condition. The metal has been refinished in red and black enamel and the cushions are recovered in black vinyl with red piping and snap-on ties to the frame. The chaise is 33" wide, 40" high (with the back up), 64" long (with the back up) and 72" long with the back down. The seat is 19" off ground. Please click on this link for more views and close-up photos of the chaise. The chaise is pictured on page 465 of Ric Emmett's book, American Art Deco Furniture, ADP 2014, Coral Gables.
