

Two American Art Deco Floor Lamps with Mica Shades

Reference:

MPD-001458

Description

These two American Art Deco floor lamps are from the late 1920's. Although there are no markings on either one, they were obviously manufactured by the same company. Both lamps feature a square wood base inlaid with chrome "speed" lines sitting on chrome corner feet. The bottom of the pole is a column of enameled metal with two "speed" bands topped with a chrome section. The shorter lamp has a "C" of chrome supporting a 10" diameter mica shade with a stepped chrome top and chrome bars holding Mica panels. This lamp is 50" tall, the taller lamp is 55" high, has three sockets and a larger 16" diameter shade. The lamps are in excellent vintage condition, have been rewired and are ready to use.
