Description
This spectacular pair of very large 48" American Art Deco sconces were said to be created in the 1930's for a theater in St. Louis in the Benton Park West area. The sconces are constructed of cast aluminum and stainless steel, each end has stylized swirls thus permitting them to be hung vertically or horizontally. The sconces are 7" wide and project 7" from the wall. The aluminum has been polished and the sconces have been rewired and are ready to hang on your favorite wall!
