Description
Incredible mobile 1930's bookmatched Burl Walnut bar with Quartersawn Birdseye Maple serving surface, also known as an "envelope bar". The top panels, side panels and front doors all open outward to convert the cabinet into a full service cocktail center for serious entertaining!

The bookmatched burls on this cabinet are exceptional with their large and spectacular burl patterns in deep rich coloration. The bar serving surface is veneered in highly desirable Quartersawn Birdseye Maple (most envelope bars had Formica serving surfaces). Two sliding glass doors in the rear of the cabinet open to allow the bartender access to glassware and liquor bottles. Two original chromium juicers and the original polished chrome serving tray provide the full complement of bar service accoutrement. The original lamp is seen in the top rear of the cabinet, controlled by the original "on-off" push button.

An original curved plate glass is inset into the serving surface that allows visibility to the section immediately below. This cabinet is on casters for easy movement to where full featured cocktail service may be needed in your home or office.
