

Does modernism.com buy the items they sell on their site?

The items on this site are owned by Art and Design Galleries all across the world. Every single one of these dealers has been selected based on their extensive product knowledge, excellent inventory, and honesty and integrity. Each item shows what dealer owns the item and allows you to contact them for payment methods and shipping arrangements. These same dealers may also be interested in buying the items that they sell.