What is modernism.com?

Modernism.com gives its members access to the best 20th century art & design in the world. Modernism.com is a great destination for finding unique and rare art and design products, and is also a great information source to learn about the many designers, styles, and products of the 20th century. Whether you use this information to help educate yourself before purchases or looking for more research as a dealer, modernism.com is your one stop destination for 20th century art & design.
Modernism.com has been named “best of the web” by Forbes Magazine in 2000, and is now opening its doors to other dealers to bring all the best art and design of the 20th century on one site.